

War Child, an acclaimed humanitarian organization, has been protecting children from the brutal impact of war for the past 20 years.

War affects children in multiple ways and its negative impact can be felt for years after the guns are silenced. Using a bold, community-driven approach, War Child delivers programs that give children the best chance of overcoming these challenges and growing up to see a brighter future. War Child makes it possible for children to get back to school, protects their rights, and gives their families the tools they need to escape poverty. War Child believes that the impact of war on children and youth is the most critical crisis facing the world and is outspoken about our shared responsibility to act.